"GEE," BUT IT'S GREAT TO SEE YOU HOME AGAIN, you even surpassed yourselves, you arose even above your traditions. You accomplished the impossible. At the very moment when the German war machine seemed invincible, when that which was intended as the final drive that was to wipe France off the map, then you lads were thrown against that terrible army in Gray. The onslaught was all that Germany had planned. The Gray clad hosts attacked with all the confidence of their training, but, you did not yield. You true American Lads in France never gave an inch. You began to advance and you never faltered or stopped until Germany was on its knees begging for mercy. So meagre words could never half express our greetings.

"GEE, BUT IT'S GOOD TO SEE YOU HOME AGAIN."

HERE IT IS!—A Better Drink to a Better Man

Old John Barleycorn is in the death throes a victim of better thinking and better drinking humanity. Mild stimulants—non-alcoholic—are necessary to mankind, for nourishment, relaxation. Attuned to the times and the need we offer—

ORANGE CRUSH
